FOUNDER OF THE HAHNEMANN
HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICAL TRUST &
VENKATESWARA HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICAL COLLEGE AND HOSPITAL

Thiru V.K. Arumugam, an engineering Graduate, served in Tamil Nadu Electricity Board for about 20 years in various capacities had resigned his post as an Executive Engineer and started an Industry manufacturing Transformers in various capacities during 1978 at No. 121, Kundrathur Road, Porur, Chennai - 600116.

He was simple in living, an able industrialist, Philanthropist with charitable mind and a social worker particularly in health care. Keeping this in mind, he had initially established Hahnemann Homoeopathic Medical Trust duly registered at his Industrial Complex, rendering medical treatment in Homoeopathy manned by the Registered Medical Practitioners to the Public almost on charity basis. As the number of the out patients grew day by day, he had an ambitious desire to have a Homoeopathic Medical College of its own, imparting Medical Graduates in BHMS and attached Hospital with inpatient and Outpatient Departments. To fulfill his desire, he had started Venkateswara Homoeopathy Medical College & Hospital in the newly built Trust Building at 6/177-A, Mount Poonamallee Road, Porur, Chennai-600 116. from the academic year 2000 - 2001. He had also shifted the out patient Department from his industrial complex to the above Trust building. He started the college with an ambition of bringing out well trained homoeopath.

In the later part of his life, he had devoted much of his time on the development of the Homoeopathic Medical Science and wrote several books on Homoeopathy which are available in our college Library.

His ambition was to have Research and Development in Homoeopathy so as to render better medical facilities to the public on larger scale and the present Medical Institution to be as Post Graduate Institution.
